Visionix: Efficiency without compromise

A powerhouse of equipment in a small footprint

Visionix integrated devices combine multiple test functionalities in a small package—providing all necessary data for a comprehensive screening in a small footprint. The compact Eye Refract and VX 650 can be placed on a single tabletop or separately in a five square feet pre-test room. The optional table's ergonomic design allows a wheelchair to fit comfortably, an excellent benefit for practitioners who see patients with special needs.

Now you can add OCT to this compact and efficient set-up with the Optovue iScan 80 by Visionix software assisted OCT.

Automated anterior and posterior screening

VX 650 offers anterior and posterior segment screening in a single device with the touch of a button. Technologies include Shack-Hartmann wavefront aberrometry, Scheimpflug imaging, Placido Ring topography, retro-illumination, anterior chamber analysis, pachymetry, non-contact tonometry, anterior and posterior corneal tomography, and 45-degree retinal imaging.

Computer-assisted binocular refraction

The 2nd generation Eye Refract utilizes a unique and innovative technology which performs an automatic binocular refraction powered by computer-generated algorithms. With over 5.5 million refractions to date and accuracy backed by published ARVO studies, it is a device you can confidently rely on.

The OCT that practically runs itself

iScan 80 OCT offers all of the scans available on a traditional OCT with the added benefit of simplified operation. Scan acquisition is as easy as positioning the patient with the assistance of iScan 80's Pupil Alignment Technology, choosing the scan and pushing start. iScan 80 performs all of the focus and alignment operations while talking the patient through the entire exam.
